BROWN'S THIRD TRIAL

Hard to Prove the Charge of Attempted Express Robbery.

Judge Crumpacker Says Roby Will Sell Out and Have No More Fights-

Girl Runaways at Brazil.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., Feb. 8 .- The third trial of Ed Brown, charged with attempting to rob the American Express car on the Big Four on Aug. 11, near this city, commenced on last Monday and attracted large crowds, and much interest has been manifested. Brown came to this city from Lafayette and attempted to steal a ride to Indianapolis, where he has a brother living. He says that he and several others jumped on the front end of the express car on the night of Aug. 11. Some trainman ordered them to "pile off," and after firing one shot through the door, it was opened and two shots fired. These shots struck Brown in the abdomen. He fell from the train, and after lying insensible a short time walked back to the depot, where word was sent to for the police. Brown was taken to the county jail, and his wounds dressed. The next day arrangements were made to remove him to the poor farm, but a telegram from Indianapolis said he had made an attempt to burglarize the In two days a warrant was made out for his arrest. The express people claim that Brown had opened the car door and fired at the expressman and baggagemaster. It was evident in the last case that a ground plan for a damage suit was laid, and in ease of acquittal it would be brought. Two juries disagreed. The main thing against Brown is the idea that he was a "tramp." Brown is from Cleveland, O., and is a nice appearing young man, and his testimony in all the trials was very straightforward. The theory of the de fense is that the express messenger and baggageman had simply shot out the door to frighten the men from the car platform, and did not know any person had been shot until the next morning. Then, in order to shield themselves and justify the shooting, they made up the story of it being an atit had been a genuine attempt at robbery word would have been sent back to the depot, as it took place not over six hun-

Judge Crumpacker Says the Roby Club Is Out of the Ring.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. VALPARAISO, Ind., Feb. 8 .- In an interview to-night, Judge E. D. Crumpacker said he met the members of the Columbian Athletle Club in Chicago last night to consult about the defense of the cases to come up in the Lake Circuit Court April 16.

"All the talk about the Corbett-Jackson fight coming off at Crown Point is bosh,' he said; "and is made for the sole purpose of affecting the cases yet to be tried. I do not believe Costello will appear for sentence, as he does not want to go to the penitentiary, which he would have to do to save his bondsmen Neither will be appear to make a test case to go to the Supreme Court. One of the cases yet to be tried will be appealed, and I am confident the Supreme Court will not affirm the decision of the lower court, if they be sentenced under the White Cap law, as Costello was. The Roby club has disbanded, and the arena will be sold for old lumber and taken to Illinois. There will never be any more prize

TWO RUNAWAY GIRLS.

They Made a Pitiful Plea When Arrested at Brazil.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. BRAZIL, Ind., Feb. 8 .- A pathetic scene was witnessed here yesterday evening when Chief of Police Louderbock placed under arrest Dotta Adams and Bertha Parks, two runaways from Terre Haute. The girls were mere children and pleaded pitifully when arrested. They claimed they had escaped from a cruel aunt, who, they said, wanted them to live a life of shame The authorities of Terre Haute were notified, and on the evening train an old, haggard-looking woman by the name of Peacock came and took possession of the giris, claiming to be their aunt.

IDENTIFY OAKS.

Many Witnesses Continue to Testify Against Him in the Murder Case. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

LEBANON, Ind., Feb. 8.-When court convened this morning Judge Zion called the witnesses for the defense in the Oaks murder trial and they were sworn by deputy clerk J. M. Berryhill, after which they were instructed to remain away from the court room until they were called to testify, which will probably be several days yet. There are about fifty of them, and with their evidence Oaks expects his acquittal. Dr. William S. Beck, Coroner of Marion county, was the first witness to-day. He identified a manuscript shown him as the evidence given him by Pitts on the evening of the shooting. R. B. Cassidy, of Indianapolis, saw the shooting, but could not say positively who fired the shot, as he was not looking high enough to see the pistol. Four other witnesses who saw the shooting identified Oaks o hred, but greatly disagree as to the clothing worn. One saw two men on the platform, but is not positive which one shot, although he is certain the shot came from the car. John Yantz said he saw Oaks step to the car door and fire. Immediately afterwards Pitts fell. He pointed Oaks out as the man who did the shooting. Jacob Waite was near Pitts when he was shot. He said a heavy-set man did the shooting from the car. Frank Sommers saw Oaks open the door of the car and fire into the crowd. Jerry Smith saw a man whom he identified as Oaks shoot from the car platform. Ed F. Walker saw Oaks fire and heard Pitts say: "My God, I'm shot." He helped take care of the wounded man. Henry England saw smoke from a revolver fired from the car, and rocks were thrown at the car by some small boys. There was a great deal of wrangling among the opposing attorneys. From the present outlook the case will not go to the jury for ten

Two $10,000 Damage Suits. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

WABASH, Ind., Feb. 8.-Job Timman, of Roann, this county, to-day filled an action for $10,000 damages against the Wabash Railroad Company. Timman was the owner of the large sawmill at Brownell station which burned by reason of a spark from a Wabash engine setting fire to the roof. The case will probably be tried in Miami county. A peculiar suit was begun to-day by Miss Saran Buzzard, a well-known young woman of Warren, who wants $10,000 damages from a Warren physician, Peter Minnich Minnich, according to the girl's complaint said he could successfully treat an incipient cancer on her upper lip, and she permitted him to attempt it. Campbellaberg Robbers Caught.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. JEFFERSONVILLE, 1nd., Feb. 8. - Lot Hit, a detective of Lagrange, Ky., late last evening arrested four suspicious characters | Remorse over her sinful career was the who had arrived at Lagrange on the ac- cause. commodation from Louisville. When arrested they showed fight, but finally gave in, and on being searched twenty-saven rings, one diamond cluster, several watches who has been in the general merchandise and a lot of cash were found. Detective Hit believes they are the men who robbed the jewelry store of Axiam Overman, at Campbellsburg, forty miles north of here, Tuesday night. The robbers were tracked by bloodhounds to Salem, where they took a Louisville train. They offered to divide with the officer if he would allow them to go free. The men will be brought to this State as soon as the necessary papers can be obtained and the jewelry identified.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. COLUMBUS, Ind., Feb. 8 .- At the St. Denis Hotel, in this city, the Fourth Battalion, Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, consisting of divisions at Greensburg, Shelbyville, Seymour, Franklin, Madison and this city, met for the purpose of electing a major to-day. There were four candidates spoken of, but Allen W. Clark, of Grrensburg, was chosen. The work of preparing this battalion for the encampment at Washington, D. C., will be begun at once. The meeting was largely attended, each division having six representatives.

On a Charge of Perjury.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. BRAZIL, Ind., Feb. 8.-Hiram Kress, brother of Thomas Kress, who was killed by Charles Cooprider at Middlebury, this county, last June, was arrested yesterday and placed under $1,000 bond to appear at the March term of court to answer a charge of perjury. The affidavit was filed by Ellas Cooprider, the murderer's father, It alleges that Kress exhibited a small cane in court purporting to be the one in his brother's possession at the time of the killing, instead of a large, heavy cane which Mr. Cooprider claims Kress had.

Found Dead by the Tracks.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., Feb. 8. - The dead body of William Bottorff, son of Cornelius Bottorff, of this county, was found early this morning lying beside the Pennsylvania track, at Speed's Station, about ten miles from this city. The dead man was thirty years old, and leaves a wife and three small children. From certain injuries it is not thought that he was killed by the train. How he met death is a mystery. His friends are inclined to believe he met with foul play.

PRAYING FOR DEATH

John Carberry Hiccoughing Himself Toward the Grave.

Remarkable Case that Is Puzzling Seven New Jersey Physicians-Warning to Muscular Barbers.

NEWARK, N. J., Feb. 8.-Ten weeks ago yesterday John Carberry, of 22 Webster street, Newark, was a strong, robust, medium-sized man, weighing just 147 pounds and in the enjoyment of perfect health. Today he is a mere shadow of his former self, weighing less than ninety pounds and scarcely able to talk, much less move, lying on a couch at his parents' home, anxiously awaiting death to relieve the terrible agony he is forced to endure. His awful sufferings are due apparently to an attack of hiccoughs, which has baffled the skill of seven eminent specialists of Newark, and appears to grow worse daily despite their efforts, as well as the hundred and one home remedies usually applied in similar

The most peculiar phase of Carberry's affliction is the manner in which it was contracted. Ten weeks ago yesterday he stopped at his barber's, according to his isual custom on Wednesday, to get shaved. While applying the lather, Carberry says, the barber used unusual force on the chin, and he was suddenly seized with an attack of hiccoughs. It became so violent that he was forced to leave the chair before he had been shaved. After sipping water and trying several other old-fashioned remedies without obtaining relief, Carberry left for Lalor's saloon, on Belleville avenue, where he was employed as bartender. He was rapidly growing worse, and, unable to obtain relief, went home and summoned Dr. Chapman after his mother had tried mustard plasters on the chest and throat, potato poultices, sugar and vinegar and several other household

Dr. Chapman prescribed, and cheerily said when leaving that the patient would be all right the following day. But he was not, and Dr. Wendell was called in consultation with Dr. Chapman. Another day passed without reilef, and Dr. Corwin was added to the list of attendants, without any better results. The doctors were puzzled, the patient grew despondent, and the parents, becoming seriously alarmed, added in turn to the list of doctors Drs. Lyons, Zeh, Towles and Hawk. The seven physicians held consultation after consultation, applied all known remedies internal and external, without affording the patient any apparent relief. So it continued from day to day, with the patient rapidly growing thin and emaciated, unable to sleep, eat or drink, and the awful biccough recurring at regular intervals of thirty seconds, until the poor sufferer actually began to prove that death might come to his relief. The doctors are sorely puzzled and say that such a case is absolutely without precedent. They presumed he might be affected with inflammation of the stemach and have used hot water as an emetic without affording the patient even temporary relief. The case has attracted widespread attention, and hundreds of visitors call at the house daily to ascertain the condition of the patient. The final outcome is watched with great interest by medical men and every one of standing in the vicinity has been consulted as to the probable result of the strange malady. Carberry is a temperance man, was always steady and regular in his habits and worked as a ship carpenter until five months ago, when he began to tend bar.

FARMING ENCOURAGED BY PRIESTS.

The Roman Church Trying to Keep Rural Canadians at Home.

MONTREAL, Feb. 8 .- The Roman Catholic Church is doing all in its power to keep French Canadians from emigrating to the United States. It is also using all its efforts to keep the farmers in the country districts, where it has greater control over people than in the cities. In conformity with this idea a joint pastoral has just been issued by all the archbishops and bishops, to the number of twelve, in the ecclesiastical province of Quebec, on the subject of the work of the "ecclesiastical missionaries." These missionaries are priests who have been trained to agricultural pursuits, and their duty is to visit every parthe necessity of restoring the soil to its primitive utility and point out the various means that may be adopted to attain that

The pastoral says that "a kind of fever of enjoyment and freedom has taken possession of the rural population and is drawing them to the great cities. They are weary and tired of the simple and peaceful ife of the fields. They allow themselves to be seduced by the brilliant luxury of wealth; they wish for more liberty to quit a humble position, to obtain some enjoyment, to be something in the world; but in the search for happiness they find ruin." It is for this reason that the missionaries have been appointed, the church claiming that to insure success in inducing the rural population to remain at home, it must teach them the way to success, if they are not in it already, and show them that the produce of the soil is sufficient for them. The pastoral says that the Pope has blessed the missionaries, and the bishops join with the sovereign Pontiff to call down upon them and upon their work the most abundant benedictions of heaven. The missionaries, besides their other work, are to help the cure to find the pupil who will represent the parish in the School of Agriculture, and who will return to give an example to others. They are also to visit the farmers' clubs, of which there are about four hundred in the province, most of which, says the pastoral, are already directed by Roman Catholic priests.

THE WAR AT AN END

People of Rio Think the Fighting Is About Done.

Attention of Brazilians Will Soon Be Claimed by National Election-Praise for Benham-The Silver Slump.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Feb. 8.-President Peixoto to-day issued a decree ordering a congressional and presidential election for March 1. The Constitutional party will nominate Senhor Prudente Moraes for President.

President Peixoto gave a big reception to United States Minister Thompson and Rear Admiral Benham to-day.

The general belief at Rio de Janeiro is that the rebellion is practically at an end and that it is not likely that there will be any more fighting of importance, as the presidential election will now take up the attention of both parties. Ardent Republicans, it is believed, will name Ruy Barbosa in opposition to Dr. Moraes.

The United States representatives have refused Admiral Da Gama's application to be granted belligerent rights.

The war ship Aquidaban and another insurgent vessel have left the harbor. It is upposed they intend to intercept President Peixoto's squadron and challenge it to surrender on the outside, where it could have no support from the government forts.

Benham Praised by Britons. LONDON, Feb. 8.-Secretary Bertie, of the Foreign Office, representing the Earl of Roseberry, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, received a deputation of British ship owners to-day, who urged that the British commander at Rio de Janeiro be instructed to see that all British vessels were enabled to discharge their cargoes at their wharves without molestation. The deputation of British ship owners spoke in the warmest manner possible of the spirited action of Rear Admiral Benham, of the United States navy, who, they said, set an example to the naval commanders of all foreign nations in freeing, in such brilliant manner, the American ships at Rio from the obnoxious restrictions imposed on them by the insurgents of Brazil. Secretary Bertie, in reply, said that the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs would see if it was possible to instruct the British commander as was requested by the delegation. Finally, Secretary Bertie, referring to the action of itear Admiral Benham, warmly praised the American admiral for the determined stand he had taken, saying that he had evidenty brought about the desired end, and that he had successfully accomplished what his more cautious colleagues shrank from do-

Recognition of Rebels Refused.

ROME, Feb. 8.-The government has been approached by agents of the Brazilian insurgents who have suggested that it was high time that Italy should recognize the insurgents as belligerents on the ground that they had established an independent government, that they controlled the greater portion of the southern part of Brazil and that they had been waging war against Peixoto, whom they classed as a military lictator, since September last. The reply of the Italian government was to the effect that Italy was not disposed to recognize the insurgents of Brazil as belliger-

PARIS, Feb. 8.-The Journal des Debats says that the majority of the powers have decided to refuse belligerents rights to the insurgents of Brazil.

The Aquidaban's Feat. WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.-Following is an extract from a letter of Captain H. F. Picking, dated Jan. 12, 1894: "At 9:15 a. m. the Aquidaban was sighted coming without flying the admiral's flag. She was fired at by the forts and stood toward and anchored near the Lamadare, returning the fire, but only occasionally with her large guns. It was a remarkable sight to see this vessel coming in before all the forts and batteries, and seemingly without any injury at all. I hear from a good source that she was struck twice, but without material injury. Two men were slightly wounded, sufficiently so to require their being sent to the hospital. As near as can be counted, the shots fired at the Aquidaban aggregated one hundred, in return to which the Aquidaban fired twentyfive times. This is taken by naval experts to indicate that an armored ship is practically exempt from a shore battery.'

ANOTHER DROP IN SILVER.

Commercial Bar Touched 293-8d in London Yesterday. LONDON, Feb. 8.-The silver market seems to be completely demoralized, and the price of bar silver took another drop to-day of 7-15d, to 29%d per ounce. The tone of the market was flat. There was another fall to-day in the value of rupee paper, the price declining %, to 571/2, the lowest on record.

In an interview with the submanager of the principal bank doing business with India, to-day, in regard to the silver situation and prospective legislation, the latter sald that the directors of the bank were ignorant of any prospective legislation, and asserted that the general belief was that the government cannot take definite measures. or even propose them with any prospect of success until the silver market ish in the province at least twice a year | steadler. The submanager also said that he to call the attention of the population to | thought it probable that at the present price the Indians would resume making purchases of silver for hoarding. Nothing was known, he asserted, concerning the probable reopening of the Indian mints. A high official of the Indian Office said positively that the government did not contemplate any further silver legislation at present. He also made the following significant statement: "Speculation in which America is interested, which is sending silver to the Indian markets, will probably result in some heavy failures before long." The Times, in its mancial article, argues in excuse of the closing of the mints in India that otherwise the crisis in the United States might have had full effect in India. The measure having now passed the American Congress, the reopening of the mints in India might probably produce a new demand which would absorb the unplaced surplus metal. Those who are offering silver under spot prices, the financial editor of the Times says, should keep this contingency in view. With reference to a proposal alleged to have been made by the merchants of Calcutta for the reopening of the mints, the Times says: "If the complete ruin of Indian finances is desired, it would be impossible to devise a better arrangement. We are no admirers of the manner in which the Indian Council has managed its drafts. but it is only fair to say that its principal blunder was its refusal to sell under 1514 until lately. This mistake was probably made in deference to Calcutta opinion and was the real reason for the failure of the policy of closing the mints. The government is always at a disadvantage when it is known that it must seil a certain amount of a given article within a given

Charged with Flogging Women. BERLIN, Feb. 8.-In the Reichstag, today, during the discussion of the colonial estimates. Prince Arenburg demanded the removal and punishment of Governor Leist, of the Cameroons colony, who, the Prince said, had disgraced the German name in the Cameroons. Dr. Kayser, director of the colonial department, said that if the accounts received in Berlin from the Cameroons charging the Governor with flogging women was true, Governor Leist would be severely punished. Dr. Kayser added that a commission had already been dispatched to the Cameroons in order to inquire into the affair. Herr Bebel denounced the despotism of Governor Leist in vigorous terms, declaring that nothing within the last decade had excited such universal indignation as the flogging of women by the German official,

Crew of a British War Ship Refuse to Honor an Admiral.

HALIFAX, N. S., Feb. 8.-There is trouble amounting to almost mutiny on the British war ship Canada, now in the West Indies. It has manifested itself since the ship was recommissioned. The matter has been kept as quiet as possible to prevent it from getting into the newspapers. The admiral visited every ship of the squadron on Christmas day, and was received on all ships in a hearty manner by the men, with the single exception of the crew of the Canada. On board that ship there were no decorations or anything to indicate the festival season. On each mess tabia was a tin of water and a plate of ship's biscuit. The admiral was received in silence by the men. On Dec. 26 the royal navy sports took place, and not one of the crew of the Canada entered any of the contests. It is rumored that the admiral has asked the Admiralty to order the Canada

GODEY'S MAGAZINE.

A Well-Known Periodical Forced to Suspend Publication.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.-The Godey Publishing Company made an assignment to-day without preferences to Benjamin S. Harmon. The company publishes the periodical known as "Godey's Magazine," besides other works and books. Godey's Magazine, which was formerly called Godey's Ladies' Book, is one of the oldest publications in the United States. being sixty-four years old, the first number being issued in 1830. Its officers were Henry J. Davidson, jr., president, and Harry Wakefield Bates, vice president and secretary. The publication offices were at No. 21 Park row and Nos. 10 and 12 Vanderwater street. The company was also publishers of periodicals, books, etc. The assets are said to be considerably in excess of the liabilities.

SWEET PURITAN MAIDS

Wanted by the Lonesome Bachelors of the Cherokee Strip.

An Agent on His Way to Boston for Two Carloads of "Al Class Girls, Pure New England Stock."

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8. - Absence of women in suddenly settled Western cities, and women out of employment through hard times in the East have combined to set on foot a unique enterprise. The town of Ponca, in the Cherokee strip recently opened, is suffering for want of a due proportion of the gentler sex. Recently the citizens had a meeting to consider the matter, most of them being young men, and after much discussion, and partly upon the suggestion of the few already present, it was decided to send an agent East to attempt to supply the want.

Mr. Oscar Miles was chosen for the delicate mission. On his way East he was interviewed by a Washington Star correspondent, and made the following highly interesting and entertaining statement: "I am going East," said he, "for two carloads of women for our town. We need 'em, and need 'em bad. We want them to wash our dishes, mend our clothes, wash our shirts, sew on our buttons, and, generall speaking, to make life endurable in our town. You see, it's this way: We've got a regular woman famine, that's what's the trouble.

"I do not pretend to explain how it happened that Ponca City was settled nearly altogether by bachelors; but that is practically the case. It is a coincidence, I suppose. At any rate, there is not more than one woman to every twenty men in our town, and they are generally women who have their household duties to keep them busy. We want women to work, as I have told you. To us this is no laughing matter, and I will venture to say that no man ever visited Boston on a more serious mis-sion than that which I am going on. We are actually in need of from 100 to 150 more women in our town, and I am authorized to offer inducements that will bring them there. We won't give 'em a house and lot to start in on or anything of that kind, but we will guarantee them work at good

"Why do I go to Boston for girls? Well, I'll tell you. We might possibly get some Kansas City that would suit us, but in Chicago we could not do much. We canvassed that thoroughly before I left home and concluded that it was best to go di rect to Boston. The fact is, we want an Al class of girls, pure New England stock. To be candid with you, sir, we are going after these women with a view to marry ing them after we get better acquainted with them. I am confident that many of them will have offers of marriage before they are ten days in Ponca. The fact is I have six special orders for girls. Three are for blondes not more than nineteen and puritans; two are for German-American girls and one is for a widow of thirty. Of course, if I fill these orders at all i will be as a friend to those who want the girls, and not as a representative of Ponca. I have the pictures of the young men who gave me these orders in my valise to show to the girls should I find any to suit them who are willing to come to Ponca. I understand that many of the factories of New England are closed, and that it will be very easy matter to get a choice lot of young women who are willing to come to the West on such inducements as I am authorized to offer them."

HIS SAMPLES STOLEN.

Traveling Man Robbed of $15,000 Worth of Jewelry by a New Trick.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Feb. 8.-A daring and successful robbery in this city resulted in the loss to H. C. Barnum, traveling representative of Shaefer & Douglass, a jewelry firm of New York, of his trunk of samples, said to be valued at about $15,000. Last night Mr. Barnum came from Northampton to this city and registered at the Cooley House, but left his trunk in the baggage room at the station. When he asked for his trunk to-day he as informed that it had been called for and sent to the Hotel Glendower. A visit there proved that Mr. Barnum's trunk had been sent up to Room No. 9, which the register showed was occupied by C. H. Boyd, of Boston. Mr. Barnum went to the room, found it unoccupied, but his trunk, with the lid torn off, stood empty in the middle of the room, and the only portion of the contents left was one roll of rings. A new hammer lying on the floor gave evidence of how the job was accomplished. The greater part, if not all, of the diamond rings were recovered to-night. The local police force traced the case in which the rings were to the American Express office at Worcester, where it had been sent from this city to T. G. Davis. The thief, who is known as G. H. Boyd, W. S. Stewart and several other aliases, has not yet been captured.

National Dairy Union.

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 8.-At the meeting of the National Dairy Union, to-day, a plan to secure the co-operation of butter and cheese dealers throughout the United States in securing legislation fa-voring the dairy interests of the country was discussed. It was decided to bring every influence to bear favoring the passage of the Hill bill, giving police control over fraudulent food products. A bill was also drafted by the union prohibiting the fraudulent sale of oleomargarine. At noon the meeting adjourned sine die.
